

Suzanne Pajunen has a B.A. in Piano Pedagogy from the Wisconsin Conservatory of Music in Milwaukee, WI, and a M.M. in Music Education from the University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee. She has taught piano and music courses at all levels of education from kindergarten through undergraduate college. Other music activities include accompanist for North Shore Suzuki, Barcel String Academy, accompanies students for WSMA and Federation/Junior Festival. She is also active as a substitute organist and is an adjudicator for National Guild of Piano Teachers/American College of Musicians and Wisconsin Federation of Music Clubs. She is a member of Milwaukee Music Teachers Association, Harmony Club of Milwaukee, American College of Musicians-NGPT, and is President of the MacDowell Club of Milwaukee. Hobbies besides music include biking, hiking, antiquing, and reading. Her husband Tim plays the trumpet, and her daughters Kirsti and Anna play cello and trombone.